You are the captain of a space ship taking part in a galactic race to the most prime place in the universe: the center of the galaxy. Only in the course of the race you'll meet and race against some of the most vicious enemies in the galaxy. Their only goal - to stop you and kill you off before you can reach the goal. And they are going to do that no matter what you do. Your only chance - is to kill them all first. ADACA is an interstellar arcade game in which players compete in a story mode, split into several different races and various missions. ADACA also features a competitive multiplayer mode.
